

Distribution of Materials and Solicitations

High Desert Education Service District (HDESD) may allow community or non-school groups and/or individuals to distribute or post materials, including those in electronic form, advertising or fundraising for non-school programs, resources, or events on school property, subject to certain limitations that are viewpoint neutral and reasonable in light of the district's mission to improve student outcomes. At a minimum, any materials distributed by non-school groups or individuals must meet the following criteria:

1. Material will have educational value and will enhance the district program.
2. Material shall not place an undue burden on students, staff, parents, school or program.
3. Material shall be subject to Title IX and equal educational opportunity guidelines.

The Superintendent shall develop and maintain administrative regulations to implement this policy.
